2007 Faculty and Staff Training Opportunities Brochure

The 2007 Faculty and Staff Development Opportunities brochure will be available for preview in December on the web at www.okstate.edu/osu_per/hr/training.html. A paper copy will be mailed to all continuous, regular employees on the Stillwater campus in January 2007. Paper copies will also be mailed to branch campus Human Resources departments.

If you are interested in computer training, the January through June 2007 calendar is available for enrollment at www.okstate.edu/osu_per/hr/training.html.

OSU Human Resources recently sponsored an Executive Briefing on Maximizing Performance for vice presidents, deans, directors, and department heads. The session included information on creating a positive work environment, performance management, and performance reviews.

Key to success is responsibility of the employee to perform while the supervisor provides accountability with respect. Performance issues include not only the results achieved, but the means used to achieve the results. OSU core values offer guidance in acceptable workplace behaviors. Appropriate action as a consequence of misconduct depends upon the seriousness of the action, prior performance record, intention of act, and prior actions for similar acts of other employees.

Unfortunately, OSU has encountered a number of serious actions of misconduct in recent months. Several actions have been serious enough that the consequences were dismissal.

• Non-exempt employees are required to keep an accurate record of time worked. The supervisor is responsible to review the correctness of these records prior to approval and submission for payment.
• Breaks are not to exceed 15 minutes twice a day in the middle of a work session. They do not accrue as time off.
• Computer misuse includes using university time and equipment for personal use, sharing of passwords, and failing to protect confidentiality.
• Compliance with accounting and purchasing policies is important, including proper P-Card usage and timely deposits.

It takes all of us working together to achieve greatness and fulfill our mission in improving the lives of others by teaching, research, and extension.

Holiday Pay

Employees required to work during a University holiday will be compensated in accordance with Policy 3-0709, University Holidays.

If you are a non-exempt employee who works on Christmas Day, you will be paid one and one half times for the time worked, plus time for the holiday.

The policy provides for exempt employees to receive comparable time off if required to work during university holidays.

The University Holidays policy can be found on the web at www.okstate.edu/osu_per/policy_proced.htm.

Holiday Schedule

Oklahoma State University will be closed from Monday, December 25, 2006, through Monday, January 1, 2007, to observe official university holidays.

If you have an emergency situation related to Human Resources during the time the University is closed, you may call (405) 744-7931, and leave a message. One of our employees will respond within 24 hours.

Confirmation of Benefit Enrollments for 2007

The State Insurance Board will send HealthChoice members a Confirmation of Benefits (COB) statement for health, dental and/or vision enrollment if a change in coverage was made. Please review the new statement to see that coverage listed for you and your dependents is what you selected. The COB is for information only; it is not a bill.

You can also verify your benefits coverage through your payroll advice. Look for changes in the health/dental/vision, flexible benefits, long-term care and cancer plans. Any changes you made will become effective on January 1, 2007.

Questions? Contact Employee Services, (405) 744-5449. We can correct almost any error if notified timely.

Would You Like to Save More for Retirement?

OSU offers two voluntary programs that give employees, including students and temporary employees, the opportunity to set aside money toward retirement. You decide how much money to contribute within the guidelines for each program. These contributions will be deducted from your paycheck and remitted to an eligible investment sponsor of your choice. Your contributions and earnings grow on a tax-deferred basis until withdrawn.

The chart below shows the maximum annual contributions for each program for 2007.

Do Not Throw Away Your Flexible Benefits MBI Debit Cards!

If you participated in the Flexible Spending Account (FSA) in 2006, do not throw away your MBI debit cards! Effective January 1, 2007, the cards will be reloaded with your new flexible benefits account balance for 2007.

The MBI debit card allows you to pay for some eligible health care products and services at the point of sale without waiting for reimbursement. The debit card covers most expenses currently allowed under the medical reimbursement account.

This plan year, you have until December 31, 2006, to incur expenses that may be claimed under the unreimbursed medical portion of the Flexible Benefits Plan. If you use your card for an amount that exceeds the balance, the entire transaction will be rejected.

If this happens, you can reduce the amount of the charge to be equal to or less than the balance of your account and pay for the remainder of the expense by other means, such as cash, check or another credit card. Or you can pay for the entire transaction using another form of payment, and then submit a paper claim for reimbursement.

OTS Trends Publication

The fall issue of Trends, a periodic newsletter from OTRS, includes an article on the Education Employees Service Incentive Plan for members who began work in the Oklahoma school system prior to 1995. Also known as the “Wear-Away” plan, the plan does not affect members of four-year universities, including OSU and OU. These institutions already provided retirement programs that supplement OTRS benefits.

Legislation encourages teachers to continue working after reaching retirement eligibility. In order to provide the plan, there is a gradual increase in the employer fee from 7.05% to 8.05%. In addition, employees who qualify will be required to make an extra contribution payment to receive the additional credit.
